Belle of the Ball

Ceramics

Pittsboro, NC

"The sentinel, Belle of the Ball, is a summation of all the influences important to me. Its strong form and vibrant glaze combines with a playful finial to create a perceptive and witty extrapolation of vernacular pottery traditions. Strong and elegant, sleek and beguiling, it sings a siren song."

New Neptune Floating Vessel

Hand Blown Glass

Hayesville, NC

"I'm capturing the energy of the movement of molten glass and incorporating bits of like-colored glass in intricate patterns to create the fluid, sensual feel of underwater. The interplay of the outside face and inside back surface of the bubble shape creates a mystery. Is this a three-dimensional form or an optical illusion?" David Goldhagen

From 1 to 2 is 58 steps

Claude Howell

The Net Menders

Serigraph

Wilmington, NC

Claude Howell (1915–1997) was one of the most important and influential artists and teachers in North Carolina in the 20th Century. He was well known for depicting the life of common boatyard workers, shrimpers, and fishermen. He chose these most iconic images for his 1970s series of serigraphs and named The Net Menders.

From 2 - 3 is 82 steps

Ephemeral

Ceramic Raku

Chapel Hill, NC

"Raku is a Japanese term which implies ease, pleasure and spontaneity. Highlighted by simplicity, it refers to a ceramic technique characteristic of 17th century tea master ware. I use this unpredictable art form to create large platters and classic vases. It is like a meditation, and I'm blessed to be a conduit." Colleen Black Semelka

From 3 - 4 is 71 steps

Joseph Cave

Field of Sunflowers

Oil on Linen

Hendersonville, NC

"I have spent much of my career painting flowers, most often as part of a floral bouquet in an interior or still life scene. Individual sunflowers, with their size and prominence, show up well in the outdoor landscape and allow me to explore these same subjects in their natural environment."
