

Sally Sutton's work can be seen throughout the Duke Clinics Building and the Duke Cancer Center.

We have provided a small collection of her work in public areas that you can visit on your own.

Duke Clinics Building

 A painting of a rural landscape featuring a field of sunflowers in the foreground, several hay bales scattered across a grassy area, and a small red barn in the background under a soft, hazy sky.	Sunflowers and Hay Bales 2nd Floor Lobby, (near bridge to parking deck)
 Two paintings displayed in a hallway. The larger painting on the right, 'The Potting Shed', shows a rustic wooden shed with a porch, surrounded by vibrant flowers and a wooden bench. The smaller painting on the left, 'Doc's Red Truck', depicts a red truck parked in a field.	Doc's Red Truck The Potting Shed 1st Floor Hallway outside Clinics 1B & C, (near between main entrance and tan elevator, near Duke Cancer Center)
 A painting of a garden path lined with a variety of flowers, including tall red and white hollyhocks and lilies, with a tree and foliage in the background.	Hollyhocks and Lilies 1st Floor Hallway outside near Clinic 1D (in alcove across from Pharmacy, beside Pink Smock Gift Shop)

Duke Cancer Center

Revisiting Diptych I

Clinic 2 – 3 back wall, past reception area

Revisiting Diptych II

Clinic 2 – 3 back wall, past reception area